THE CITY

Named after the great Sage Jabali, Jabalpur also originates from 'Jabal', the Arabic for rock, justified by its rocky impressive and awe-inspiring southern landscape. Boasting of a pleasant climate, it is the district and division head quarters and a world famous tourist destination located at the center of the country. The four universities create the academic environment of the city with their conglomeration of higher education institutions. The glorious history of venues, created by women leaders, none less than the Gond queen, Rani Durgavati, makes it an apt venue for this seminar focusing on women empowerment. The mesmerizing beauty of marble rocks bathed in the moonlight on Shridhar Poon manya is bound to be a delightful cultural experience for the participants.

THE SEMINAR

Domestic violence also called “domestic violence” or "intimate partner violence", can be defined as a pattern of behavior in any relationship that is used to gain or maintain power and control over an intimate partner. Abuse is physical, sexual, emotional, economic, or psychological actions or threats of actions that influence another person. This includes any behaviors that frighten, intimidate, terrorize, manipulate, humiliate, blame, injure, or wound someone. Domestic abuse can happen to anyone of any race, age, sexual orientation, religion, or gender. It can occur within a range of relationships including couples who are married, living together or dating. Domestic violence affects people of all socioeconomic backgrounds and education levels. Physical and sexual assaults, or threats to commit them, are the most apparent forms of domestic abuse and violence and are usually the actions that allow others to become aware of the problem. However, regular use of other abusive behaviors by the abuser, when reinforced by one or more acts of physical violence, make up a larger system of abuse. Although physical assaults may occur only once or occasionally, they instill the fear of future violent attacks and allow the abuser to take control of the victim’s life and circumstances.

Objectives of the Seminar

- To understand the various kinds of abuse.
- To sensitize girls on the issues and concerns prevailing in the relationship.
- To find out the remedial measures for prevention of domestic violence.

Theme

Abusive Relationship and Domestic Violence: Prevention and Consequences.

Expected Outcome of the Seminar

The Seminar will help the girl participants to understand the upbringing of abuse and prevention towards the domestic violence as occurring in the society.
